Subject: For Andrew on April 9, 2008

Happy Birthday Andrew,

Today you are two years old! We hope that you are happy and healthy wherever you are.

We are sad because you are not able to celebrate this day with your father in your home together here in Milwaukee. This is because your mother wrongly took you from him last year. Sadly to say, she also prevented your father from being with you the day you born (April 9, 2006) because she went to Mexico to give birth to you instead of staying with him in Milwaukee.

We happily remember your first birthday last year, which we celebrated with you, your father, your Aunt Becky, and Uncle Robert here in our apartment in Milwaukee. We have great memories and pictures of you and your first birthday cake; pictures of your father feeding you some of the cake, and pictures of you opening and playing with your presents.

Our gift to you this year is a memory book of your first two years of life. We will create more books for you as you grow up. Also, we are creating a Richardson Family history book for you. We will give these books to your father, who will keep them for you. We made books like these for your father, your Aunt Becky, and your Uncle Chris. They enjoyed looking at the books as children. We gave the books to them to keep when they became adults.

We love you, miss you and trust in our Risen Savior, Jesus Christ that you will soon be back with your father in Milwaukee.
