

Happy Birthday Andrew!

We feel sad because your father and we are not with you celebrating your birthday today. The one and only birthday that we were able to be with you was your first birthday, April 9, 2007. On that day you and your father came to our apartment in Milwaukee, Wisconsin to celebrate. Uncle Robert and Aunt Becky were with us, too. It was great!

We feel happy today because of your father's and our recent (February 3 and 4) court-ordered visitation with you in Queretaro, Mexico. We all had such a good time together.

We look forward to another court-ordered visitation with you later on this week (April 13 and 14) in Queretaro, Mexico when we will celebrate your sixth birthday with you.

Love and prayers,

Grandpa and Grandma Richardson

Follow-up e-mail

Today Andrew's mother blocked the email that we sent for Andrew on his sixth birthday. We started sending emails for Andrew to her email address on October 8, 2007, about two months after she fled with him to Mexico. We have no other means of communicating with him. Of course we know that he cannot read these emails himself; he is too young. One day, however, he will be able to read them. We think it is important that he knows that we love him and remember him.
